Beau Soir enjoys sharing music of living composers while also performing music from great composers of the past. In this program, they look forward to performing a program featuring chamber music by Graun, Ravel, and living American Composers including music by David Bruce, Kathryn Cater and Lucas Richman. These pieces are programmatic and with very descriptive titles such as "Eye of the Night" and "Drowsy Maggie Medley". Their goal is to make classical music accessible to a wide audience by including old and new music and descriptions of the pieces during the concert.
